

The ProxTalker® enables independent verbal picture communication in 1:1 or group setting for users of all ages with a wide variety of difficulties: autism, Down's syndrome, learning or acquired language difficulty or delay.

It is in use as a communication tool in a wide range of settings from early intervention right through to residential settings

Easy to use - the proxtalker comes with a set of pre-recorded sound tags to make use out of the box immediate

Easy to personalise - using the blank sound tags and our unique programming tags the unit can be easily adapted to grow with the user.

Flexible labelling system - you can make tags identifiable with whatever suits the users needs: words, photos, symbols, objects of reference.

Flexible recording - you can record a single word or up to 8 seconds of sound on each tag letting users work at a level that suits them

Easy to carry - stored in our custom made backpack the ProxTalker can go everywhere with the user or class making sure they can say what they want wherever they are

NEW - the Visual Suite DVD from silver lining is an easy way to use your own or the library of 15,000 photos to create personalized ProxTalker stickers. Simply load the DVD and start filling the readymade ProxTalker templates with your own ideas.
